

Summer @ SFS

Student Financial Services continues to provide all of our regular services from 9am to 4pm daily for the Summer period. If you have questions on student finances, billing or financial aid, do not hesitate in contacting our office.

This Month...

With the Summer period being the time of year when we prepare the most for our incoming students, we felt it was an opportune time to get to know our fellow colleagues around the campus! As a result, Student Financial Services has been hosting a number of departments on campus for little get-togethers over the summer period. In the photo above, you will see some of the competitors in the SFS / IAL Chicken Wing Challenge!

Your Journey

Student Financial Services publication "Your Journey" was sent to all new and returning Students at the end of the Spring Semester. This booklet is now available on MyLynn and helps to guide our students and families through the financial process at Lynn University.

Financial Literacy

As part of our continuing commitment to building a financially literate campus, Student Financial Services is happy to offer interactive staff workshops on the topic of "financial literacy for our students". Please contact Morgan O'Sullivan mosullivan@lynn.edu if you would like to have one of these workshops over the summer period.

A copy of a new financial literacy tool utilized in these workshops is available for free download at <https://apple.co/2KMsVUF>

Student Employment

The student employment process will be going through changes in the coming weeks. A new hiring process for all supervisors of student employees will be announced. Please monitor your email for notifications in the weeks ahead.

Deadlines & Late Fees

Payments for all day students for the Fall Semester are due August 1st. Payments received after this date are subject to a $500 late fee. This payment is charged as students who have paid in full and on time, may be experiencing difficulty in getting into a class that a student who has not paid is currently registered in.
